

Computer Programming

Prerequisite: None

Credit Hours: (3)

This course will provide basic programming skills for computational studies of language. No prior programming skill is needed to take this course. Students will be introduced to C++ programming, plus Windows and Linux operating systems. At least one of the following computer programs will be presented in this course:

1. LISP
2. Python
3. Perl
4. Prolog