

Issues in Linguistics

Prerequisite: None

Credit Hours: (2)

This course considers different aspects of structural and generative linguistic theories with an emphasis on morphology (definitions and theories related to words, word types, and word formations), syntax (different structures of languages), and semantics (types and levels of meaning).